

The Engaged Manager

Lunch 'n Learn Series

“The Engaged Manager Lunch ‘n Learn Series” consists of 5 – 45 minute workshops based on the management lessons contained in the Amazon Best Seller “The Engaged Manager: Make your team a success, and they’ll make you a success”.

This series will not only assist you in getting results, it will help you understand how being an Engaged Manager will make your organization more effective and profitable.

Engaged Managers understand that management is not about them, it’s about the people around them. An Engaged Manager creates an Engaged Team and, therefore, produces more results for less money than non-engaged managers, helping the organization accomplish its goals.

From this perspective, “The Engaged Manager Lunch ‘n Learn Series” will help you change the way you think about yourself and your job. It will help you develop and enhance the skills required to make you a successful, and engaged, manager; including things like:

- personnel management
- communication
- time management
- delegation
